| TITLE: FDA Drug/Device Regulatory File Management | | | Page 1 of 4 | |

1. PURPOSE

To establish the documents that must be present as part of the Investigator regulatory files.

2. SCOPE

Applies to all site personnel involved in the implementation and coordination of Food and Drug Administration (FDA) drug/device sponsored clinical research investigations.

Personnel responsible: Principal Investigator (PI) and, when delegated by the PI, additional Investigators, Study Coordinators (SCs), and other designated site personnel.

3. RESPONSIBILITIES

The PI is responsible for all aspects of the conduct of clinical research, including the contents of the Regulatory Document Binder. The PI may delegate the mechanics of the operation to the Regulatory Document Specialist (RDS), but must be fully aware of its contents and the accuracy of the contents.

4. BACKGROUND

Regulatory documents consist of all records, reports, and pertinent correspondence related to the conduct of the research trial. The regulatory documents comprise the official study files and provide an audit trail detailing all information and the course of events for the entire study. All documents pertinent to the conduct of the study need to be on file with both the PI and the study sponsor. International Council on Harmonisation (ICH) guidelines specify essential documents that individually and collectively permit evaluation of the conduct of the research trial and the quality of the data produced. These documents serve to demonstrate the compliance of the PI, study sponsor, and study sponsor representative(s) with the standards of Good Clinical Practices (GCPs) and with all applicable regulatory requirements. These documents are usually audited by the study sponsor's independent audit function and inspected by the regulatory authority(ies) as part of the process to confirm the validity of the research trial's conduct and the integrity of the data collected.

5. PROCEDURE

5.1. The PI will be responsible for management of the regulatory files concerning the research investigation. He/she may delegate the duty of specific regulatory file management to appropriate clinical research personnel.
